- Measure Advertising. Big businesses purchase software to track how many calls a specific advertisement generated. With POPP, you can do the same! Assign a unique toll free number to each of your out-of-town advertisements. Run each ad with its own unique number. At the end of each week or month (you choose the frequency), review this report to see how many calls each advertisement generated.
- Information Faster. Don't want to wait until the end of the month to see how many calls your ads are generating? Choose POPP weekly reports and you'll receive this high value information every week.
- Measure Call Activity To Departments, Representatives. Assign a unique toll free number to a department or individual so you can measure the number of incoming calls to each. Is the call activity what is expected for the department or position?
