- Security. Many big business communication security departments have tools to identify when there is a high volume of calls or minutes to a specific telephone number—and then they investigate. With this exclusive POPP report, now you can too.
- Evaluate Time Spent. What is the most expensive part of a long distance call? The employee's time spent on the call. Use this report to evaluate how much time was spent on long distance calls. Do the telephone numbers with a lot of minutes belong to customers, suppliers, prospects, employees or others?
